Mission Statement:

St. Landry Catholic Church is a community of the faithful that serves God and our neighbors by coming to know and love more deeply Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. This is accomplished through the study of Sacred Scripture and by practicing the traditions handed down to us, especially the seven sacraments. By the help of Jesus' Grace, we seek to imitate Him in His faith, hope and charity so that we can receive His gift of salvation in eternal life.

From the Desk of Msgr. Harrington...

From the summer of 1994 to the spring of 1996 I lived in Forest Hills, Massachusetts, one of those old neighborhoods of Boston. I lived on the third floor of a very large rectory with two other priests at St. Andrew's Catholic Church. The parish is now closed, and both of my friends have passed on; Fr. Bob O'Brien and Msgr. Richard Mehm. It was a wonderful two years that we shared that gave me so many great memories. I loved the people of St. Andrew's, especially my two good priest friends.

Outside of my room was a large deck/porch that I rarely ventured on to. It was often the hangout for these huge ravens that never liked to share their territory. This became the first lesson I learned about the difference between a crow and a raven.

The other side of the third floor looked over into Forest Hills Cemetery, one of the largest and most prominent cemeteries of Boston. Two of the more famous people buried there were the playwright Eugene O'Neill and the poet e. e. cummings. The poetry was not my favorite part of American literature, but the plays of O'Neill always inspired me. They challenged me to look at the story of the human person, many times filled with sorrow or longing, fallen dreams or dancing with despair. His plays were always beautifully written. There were a number of times when I strolled though the cemetery and reflected on these things, especially in the fall.

The old maple trees throughout the cemetery wore various shades of orange and crimson, yellow and scarlet that defined fall in New England. It was truly breathtaking. So many tourists came not only to this cemetery, but of course, all along the north east to witness the changing of the colors of the leaves. This spectacular transition from summer to winter stirs many to behold the beauty of creation, the wonder of God and His handiwork.

Autumn teaches that our perception of transitions in our lives does not always have to be negative or threatening. The movement of color as the tree's life force prepares for winter brings about a dying that still leads to life. Leaves falling to the ground are not just a nuisance for our meticulous lawns, but a reminder that we too fade, die and are lifted up in the spring. Every transition we face is about a dying that moves towards a new life.

To look into the face of God's creation is to see and hear His message to us.

"I never abandon you. Even in the dying, the changing, the surrendering, I am always with you. Even though you move towards winter, I will always be there with you and bring you to spring. No matter how difficult the transition, you must believe that you are never alone. The transition brings color and hidden life, vibrancy and purpose. In the dying of the leaves, there is the coolness and briskness of my very breath. This breath is given to you freely and with the power of my love."

"Even in the darkness as the sun seems to abandon the earth, I will never leave you. As the shadows cross the day and make your hearts yearn for the light, know that my light radiates within you. I cannot change this; it is who I am. It is who I choose to be. It is who I want to be. I am your god, you are my people, each and every one of you. My being is inscribed on your heart."

READINGS FOR FAITH SHARING

Twenty-ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Ex 17:8-13 As long as Moses kept his hands raised up, Israel had the better of the fight.

Ps 121 "Our help is from the Lord, who made heaven and earth."

2 Tm 3:14-4:2 The scriptures train you to stay with the task.

Lk 18: 1-8 Be persistent in prayer, especially in the pursuit of justice.

From the patriarchs to the early apostles, God comes to the help of all those who ask. Moses raises his staff to elicit God's help when Joshua engages his opponent in battle. "Our help is from the Lord," we sing in the psalm. Paul tells Timothy that God is with him in proclaiming the word. Jesus assures his disciples that God will respond if they are persistent. Let us be assured that we can continue to seek help from God today.

PRAYER FOR HURRICANE SEASON

O God, Master of this passing world, hear the humble voices of your children. The Sea of Galilee obeyed your order and returned to its former quietude; you are still the Master of land and sea. We live in the shadow of a danger over which we have no control. The Gulf, like a provoked and angry giant, can awake from its seeming lethargy, overstep its conventional boundaries, invade our land and spread chaos and disaster. During this hurricane season, we turn to You, O loving Father. Spare us from past tragedies whose memories are still so vivid and whose wounds seem to refuse to heal with the passing of time. O Virgin, Star of the Sea, Our Beloved Mother, we ask you to plead with your Son in our behalf, so that spared from the calamities common to this area and animated with a true spirit of gratitude, we will walk in the footsteps of your Divine Son to reach the heavenly Jerusalem where a storm-less eternity awaits us.
