Mission Statement:

St. Landry Catholic Church is a community of the faithful that serves God and our neighbors by coming to know and love more deeply Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. This is accomplished through the study of Sacred Scripture and by practicing the traditions handed down to us, especially the seven sacraments. By the help of Jesus' Grace, we seek to imitate Him in His faith, hope and charity so that we can receive His gift of salvation in eternal life.

From the desk of Msgr. Harrington:

Pastoral Reflection #23

There is a song often sung at weddings that was composed by the Weston Priory Monks in Vermont taken from the Book of Ruth. The song is entitled “Wherever You Go”. The lyrics are based on the story of Ruth, who was considered by the Hebrew community to be a foreigner because she was a Moabite woman who married Boaz of Bethlehem, son of Elimelech and Naomi. After Ruth’s father-in-law dies, her husband and brother-in-law die. She and her sister-in-law, Orpah, also a Moabite, are the only family left Naomi. However, Naomi insists that the two young women return to their families while she will take the journey back to her own people in Bethlehem. Orpah begrudgingly returns to her family, but Ruth refuses. She proclaims the following to Naomi, her mother-in-law:

Do not ask me to abandon or forsake you! For wherever you go I will go, wherever you lodge I will lodge, your people shall be my people, and your God my God. Wherever you die I shall die, and there be buried. May the Lord do so to me and more besides, if aught but death separates me from you. Ruth 1:16-18

The two women return to Bethlehem. The song is thought by many to be about a couple committed to each other in love, that is why it is so often used at weddings. But it is really about a daughter-in-law dedicated to her widowed mother-in-law, willing to embrace a completely diverse life for the sake of her husband’s mother. Ruth models for us the power of fidelity in a relationship. Her extraordinary courage shows us how a person can choose to remain faithful in a relationship that is with someone else of a different background, a whole different way of life, out and love and compassion.

We live our lives in a myriad of relationships; our spouses, our children, our families, our coworkers and friends, our church. We are called to be courageous in our fidelity to these wonderful people that God has sent our way. Fidelity is a decision on our part. It means we will stand by them just as God stands by us; in shadow and light, in joy and sorrow, in sickness and health.

Fidelity means we don’t run away when trouble comes. We don’t abandon one another when life tosses some miserable grenade in our path. We hold fast to one another, we commit our lives and energies to one another. We become Simon the Cyrene for one another, willing to assist with the crosses that others bear, not out of duty or burden, but out of love.

That whole notion of ‘fair-weathered friends’ is not who we are. We don’t make friends with people just to have valuable contacts for our future or to build a stronger network of the influential and powerful. That’s important for careers, not human life and relationships. We don’t use people as stepping stones to get a loftier view from the mountain of power and success.

We are children of a God who enters our lives as a friend, not a master. He does not call us slaves, but friends. We learn from Him and people like Ruth and Naomi on how to commit our lives to one another. We value our relationships not just because we selfishly seek our own benefits and rewards. We value relationships because together we are stronger than alone. Each of us brings a fidelity that empowers both in the relationship. Simon helped Jesus carry the cross, but Jesus also helped Simon by stretching his heart, thus making a stronger child of the Father. There is to be a mutuality in our relationships when we chose fidelity over escape. Wherever you go I shall go. That is the song we sing to one another.

READINGS FOR FAITH SHARING

The Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

Isaiah 62: 1-5 All shall behold your vindication

Psalms 96 “Proclaim his marvelous deeds to all the nations.”

1 Cor 12:4-11 The Spirit distributes gifts to each person.

John 2: 1-11 Jesus transforms water into wine.

Today's readings narrate a number of awesome events. Ancient Jerusalem has been restored to prominence, early Christians are healing others and speaking in tongues, Jesus changes water into wine. All of these things are attributable to God: God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Let us not forget that we too have the Spirit within us and have the power to awe others by what we do.

PRAYER TO END ABORTION

Lord God, I thank you today for the gift of my life, And for the lives of all my brothers and sisters. I know there is nothing that destroys more life than abortion, Yet I rejoice that you have conquered death by the Resurrection of Your Son. I am ready to do my part in ending abortion. Today I commit myself Never to be silent, Never to be passive, Never to be forgetful of the unborn. I commit myself to be active in the pro-life movement, And never to stop defending life Until all my brothers and sisters are protected, And our nation once again becomes A nation with liberty and justice Not just for some, but for all. Through Christ our Lord. Amen!

St. Landry's NEW MAUSOLEUM

When the time comes, where will I be buried? Have I made plans for that? How will my loved ones know my wishes? These are questions that we will all have to answer one day. What would you do if something happened in your family tomorrow? We don't like to think about those things and much less discuss the subject, but death is inevitable. Getting your burial space ahead of time is good family planning and makes good practical sense, especially now that our church is having a new mausoleum program in our historical cemetery.

If you buy now, you have choices. There are four different types of doubles, four different levels, also family units. There are different options for payment as well. If you wait until later to purchase, the options will be limited. The moment you sign up you are covered. Now you have the opportunity as husband and wife, and perhaps your entire family, to do your planning together in the privacy of your own home. Taking care of these plans now is a lot easier than to do so following a death.

Representatives from American Cemetery Consultants, are now available to meet with you at your home or at the church office to answer questions about the mausoleum and help you to choose the option that is right for you. The number of crypts selected before construction will determine the final size of the mausoleum. Spaces are reserved on a first come basis. Anyone wanting information should either mail in the postage paid reply card from the brochure that was mailed to your home or call 337-935-3570.
