Mission Statement:

St. Landry Catholic Church is a community of the faithful that serves God and our neighbors by coming to know and love more deeply Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. This is accomplished through the study of Sacred Scripture and by practicing the traditions handed down to us, especially the seven sacraments. By the help of Jesus' Grace, we seek to imitate Him in His faith, hope and charity so that we can receive His gift of salvation in eternal life.

From the desk of Msgr. Harrington...

We can see people gathering near the Jordan River and discussing what an odd duck John the Baptist was. Here was this man who had been living in the wilderness, surviving on insects and wild honey, dressed in some kind of costume made from camels, ranting and raving about repentance. He must have been fearless when he publicly criticized the religious and civic leaders of his day. He must have struck fear in the hearts of the many who congregated around this wild prophet of the desert.

The Old Testament prophets' voices were never easy on the ears. Their role was not to foretell the future, but to boldly challenge the faithful to remain faithful to the covenant. When Israel was in exile or slowly assimilating into whatever culture was dominating their way of life, the prophets stepped forward to rail against infidelity to God's way. They came to chastise and admonish all those who turned away, who embraced a path that was considered to be destructive or contrary to God's plan of salvation.

John was not very different from the prophets of the Old Testament. Somewhere at some time he clearly discovered his mission. Perhaps it came from the desert or from his parents, Zechariah or Elizabeth. Maybe his purpose struck him when he left the desert and discovered the state of things that developed while he was gone. However he received his mission, he embraced it with unbridled passion and fidelity. He was called to be the one who was to prepare the way of the Lord. He came to make the pathway straight, to lower the hills and raise the valleys, to create an accessible route to the Lord. There would be no Pharisee or Sadducee who would stand in his way. There would be no Herod who would thwart his pursuit of righteousness.

What would John the Baptist say to us today? How would he respond to our obsession with social media? How would he confront our political divisions and the lack of civility that we show when we disagree with one another in such mean-spirited and destructive ways? How would he address the rifts within our own church, where we sacrifice one another on altars of being too liberal or too conservative? What would John say to our culture of death, where our respect for all forms of life is threatened each and every day by consumerism, hatred, prejudice, discrimination, revenge, greed, selfishness, violence, persistent disregard for the innocent and the vulnerable? How condemning and passionate would the words be from the prophet who had come to prepare the way of the Lord? Maybe we wouldn't want to go to the Jordan River and hear what John has to say.

But this holy season of Advent is not just about all the things we are doing wrong. It is also about the prophet encouraging us to repent, to choose a better life, a holier life, a life of grace and profound love. John has a purpose in his condemnations. It is time to prepare a way for the Lord. We are to open our hearts to His purpose, His grace, His vision. It is time to surrender to His grace to turn our weapons into plowshares, to turn our sin into grace, to turn our death into life.

We prepare because we believe the change is worth it, not only for our own sakes, but for the sake of the kingdom. We join John in preparing a way for the Lord, because God uses us to build His kingdom of justice, peace and love. We prepare a way for the manger to receive the child who transforms the face of the earth. That's what the mission of the prophet urges us to do. That's what the voice in the wilderness challenges us to do. Prepare a way for the Lord.

READINGS FOR FAITH SHARING

2nd Sunday in Advent

Isaiah 11:1-10 The wolf shall be a guest of the lamb.

Psalms 71 "Justice shall flourish in his time and fullness of peace for ever."

Romans 15:4-9 God, the source of patience, enables us to live in harmony.

Matthew 3:1-12 Prepare the way of the Lord!

Peace and harmony. Last Sunday, Isaiah inspired us with a vision of peace, when swords are beaten into plowshares. Today, Isaiah speaks of a state of harmony, when a lamb can lie down with a wolf. Paul encourages the Romans to think in harmony with one another. John the Baptist calls for repentance, so that all may bear good fruit. As we listen to scripture, let us imagine the harmony we can create when all of us ready ourselves for Jesus' coming.
